TO YOUR POSTS.

Our paper will reach many of our subscribers on or after election day. To each

we can only say, we hope they have done well. To those who will still have to act, we say: DO YOUR WHOLE DUTY. The contest has been between liberty and oppression, between purity and corruption, between the people, oppressed, plundered, and outraged, and the party, once in full control of the State government, now again desperately striving to regain it.

The Conservative party, deprived of the control of the Executive and Judiciary departments, has, with the control only of the Legislature, been able to accomplish little towards relief or reform, because it has been thwarted by the action of the other departments. This has disheartened many a conservative and made him listen more readily to the deceptive flattery of the radicals, that the Conservative party is a failure; not reflecting that, with a victory only half achieved, but little really has been secured.

It is upon this feeling of disappointment that the radical party has been playing. It is upon this that it holds out its false promises of reform under radical sway. It is through this they would mislead back the people to a full radical Legislature and Judiiciary in full control with a radical Executive.

Do not be deceived. It is wise enough to remember the days of the past, (and not so many years distant in the past) when all the departments were in the hands of that party, when corruption of every kind stalked with shameless face through our land;

when reckless expenditure was the system of the Legislature; when the Judiciary was a supple tool in the hands of the Executive;

and when the Executive became the focus of violent and unrestrained tyranny. Remember at what cost you regained even your partial relief. Remember the bold, persistent, heroic assaults of John Turner upon this stronghold of iniquity and oppression. Remember the arduous and unceasing struggle of some of your noblest men, sacrificed

in defense of your rights, your interests, and your liberties.

Remember these things, and do not let

CAMPAIGN IN ORANGE.

We accompanied the candidates last week through the canvass, and can therefore speak with some degree of knowledge and confidence of the prospects for the election of this week. It is impossible to give any satisfactory report of the discussions at the various points, as they extended till each place over many hours. We only propose to notice results.

And first of Capt. Joe J. Davis. He spoke at Madigan's Store, at Orange Factory, at Durham, and at Chapel Hill. Mr.

Headen accompanied him only at Madigan's

Store and we know it was a relief to Mr.

Headen's friends that this was his last appearance on the stage of Orange. The contrast of talent, of oratory, of personal magnitude, was too painful to endure, and it was with a sigh of relief that the friends of Mr. Headen saw him at length bidden in the woods of Flat river on his way to Chatham.

Mr. Davis has made friends everywhere, on the stump, and in the crowd, as a speaker, and as a man. There is a feeling of delight which seizes every one who comes in contact with him, and such a sentiment of trust and confidence engendered by his manner, that it will be quite safe to say that he will get the full vote of the county.

It has rarely been the case that a man so completely a stranger to our people has so fully won their hearts, and convinced their judgment.

Ira Young took up the cudgels at Durham for Mr. Headen. He is a far better speaker than his leader, and gave the discussion a zest that it had before wanted.

Yet he failed altogether in making an impression, for though fluent, animated, and ingenious, his sophistry were too thin to sustain the expenses of their falsity by Mr.

Davis.

It is well to say, that in the discussion between Capt. Davis and Mr. Headen and

Col. Young, there was an observance of decorum, and regard for the proprieties of language and manner which well became men who claimed to be gentlemen, and which mitigated most completely all party bitterness.

The same might have been said of the county candidates with one single exception. Mr. Brown will have occasion hereafter to regret the temper which led him to arraign John Kerr in terms which no gentleman could use without a blush. He has already had occasion to rue his assault upon the name and fame of Col. Williamson, with whom he had associated a most informous crime. No one can forget the withering contempt of Col. Williamson's rebuke to Mr. Brown's imputation, and few would be willing to be spared the effects of Col.

W's indignation on the grounds on which he withheld his justly aroused anger. We will add nothing more, satisfied that cool reflection will make the sting of shame more keenly painful to Mr. Brown than any reproaches or retaliations of his opponents.

The county ticket will be elected by a full vote with possibly an exception or two, who may fall behind the others. But the radical candidates have been leading a forlorn hope. They have contended against probabilities, and withal, with weapons so weak, still arguments so offensive, that it is a matter of doubt whether they can even get their own party strength.

To-day, the day before the election, all looks bright and hopeful, and sanguine as to the result, we greet our readers with words of cheer and hope. Let every Conservative do his duty, and we will carry the whole line off the enemy, and bear down

we hope forever, the banner of radical rule that has so long floated insolently over us.

Once more to the breach, and the victory is ours.

GO TO THE POLLS.

"NEGROES AND THIEVES."

This is the comprehensive summary of composition and principles of his party which has pleased Mr. Brown, the radical candidate for the Senate, to make. If he is satisfied, we are. The Conservative party, with all its hostility to the radicals, has never gone to the extent of coarseness in which it has pleased Mr. Brown to speak of his own party. He ought to know it, however, and without approving his style, accept his definition. It is a slyer word to the honest man to keep away from the party.

But how does the colored man relish the sippant way in which Mr. Brown on all occasions calls him "nigger"? Some years ago, in the radical Legislature of 1868-69,

Mr. John Sykes, reporter for the Sentinel, waged a duel from the floor of the House because he would use the term "nigger."

Now, negro is right as a designation of race, but "nigger" is properly resented as a synonym of degradation. Mr. Sykes was excluded because he used a proper word; Mr.

Brown uses the term of contempt habitually and defiantly. Which is right? Mr.

Brown or Mr. Sykes?

Beware!

One of the plans of the independent candidate for Judge is to give out that everybody in Hillsboro is going to vote for Col.

Ruffin—thereby giving an endorsement to his pretensions by a house vote. This statement is absolutely erroneous, as Col. Ruffin will receive here few more votes than we first allowed him—some relatives, a few personal friends, and two or three who are disposed to fish in radical waters, and who may be tempted by the hope of government patronage. Only one thing is certain, and that is: that all the radicals, white and black, will vote for Col. Ruffin.

Conservatives in town and country will draw their own conclusions, and act accordingly. The radicals are playing a bragame.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Terms of the Recorder for 1874.
For 1 year, $2.00.
6 months, 1.00.
Payments always in advance.
Job printing done neatly and promptly.

See first and fourth pages for advertisements.

See Levy's new Ad this week. It will receive examination and will lead you to his business.

C. B. Myers & Co.

Myers has a new and every stock. Families especially will find it to their advantage to have his for their families.

Mrs. Levy's new Ad this week. It will receive examination and will lead you to his business.

Enterprising Farmers.

The tobacco farmers are still in our midst, plying their trade with untiring energy, and giving universal satisfaction. We hear of them throughout Orange, Person and Caswell, and always favorably.

How for Health.

We observe in our streets, Hon. M. E. Manly who has come up with his family to inhale the healthful air of Orange. The Rev. Jos. B. Cheshire of Tarboro has also arrived, according to his summer custom, the experience of many years convincing him of the great benefit of the practice.

Mr. Deane Cameron.

We are glad to say that subsequent, though not very full information, has relieved the anxiety felt for this young gentleman's safety. His wounds are not of a serious character, and it is hoped he will soon return here fully restored.

Remotely.

A stone was thrown into a passenger coach on the rail road not far from the Fair Grounds near Raleigh striking a gentleman from Pennsylvania and severely hurting him. A negro woman to throw the stone. The train was stopped and pursuit made but the assailant escaped. Catch him and hang him. These kinds of assaults are as heinous as cowardly.

Judge Tamm.

Judge Tamm is out in a card fully endorsing Col. Rufin, and pledging himself to vote for him. Of course. What radical is going to do otherwise?

Escaped Train.

A train of thirteen cars loaded to their utmost capacity passed here on Saturday noon with extraordinary speed. Balconies and other points to Raleigh. A large portion, perhaps a majority were negroes, of whom about one hundred got on the train here. As the train left the depot there was a mob of negroes cheering from the negroes for "Bullin". Oh ye independent!

If all the time and muscle spent in base ball was applied to work, do you think there would be so much complaint of hard times?

Remember that every vote given for an independent candidate operates as a blow at the conservative party. Vote just full ticket according to the nominations of your conventions.

The Judge.

The week-end and the faint-hearted may be reassured when they learn that Kate and Stradford are in no danger of desert. They will find every where in the district. Don't be deceived by the reports that Mr. B. and Co. are going to vote for Col. Rufin. All we know certainly that all the radicals will vote for him. The others may very easily be counted.

Five Tomatoes.

We are indebted to Mrs. Jones Watson of Chapel Hill for not only a sight, but a report of by far the finest tomatoes we have seen this summer, large, round, and ripe, without a trace of woody matter, and in flavor unsurpassed. They are from seed grown by Dr. Pridge Jones of this place.

Andrew's Sickly Boy.

We were pleased to see this gentleman in Chapel Hill in apparently robust health. Painful reports to the contrary had been in circulation.

Street Improvements.

The Corporation have gone to work with a good force on the street leading from the Court House square to the Depot, and are making substantial improvements. It is their first easy at work, and judging from appearance, what they do, they intend to do well. We hope so. Keep at it. There is much to do.

Five in Raleigh.

Raleigh was nearly the scene of a disastrous conflagration on Wednesday night, fire breaking out in the building occupied by Nichols and Gorman, J. M. Rosenbaum, the drug store of Simpson, and other parties. The fire broke out in the third story, but after strenuous exertion was subdued with a loss to Nichols and Gorman of about $500. As usual in Raleigh, there was great scarcity of water. When will they take warning?

We have no time to look over our exchanges, or gather up local matter for this issue. Our readers must bear with us for our slight coming as we have been about the whole week, until Saturday.

We have received the new schedule which will appear next week. The only change is in the hour of arrival for the morning train.

Orange in Orange.

We have passed over a considerable portion of the county within the past ten days, and have been therefore enabled to form some opinion of the condition of the crops in the various sections. It must be understood that Orange includes a very great variety of soil and diversity of productions, which at some other time, we will dwell upon at length, because it is a matter important to a proper view of state wealth, and gratifying to County pride. With this diversity of production, there has also been this year a great variety in the season, and while some portions have not felt sensibly the deficiency of rain, other parts have been materially injured.

In the Northern and North-western part of the county, corn had been retarded in growth, much of the forward corn badly injured, and the later planted impeded by drought. But the rains of last week have been of great benefit to all of it, and a continuance of favorable seasons will give a crop but little below the average. In the North Eastern, and South Eastern, the corn crop is good, and on the western of New Hope, struck us as exceptionally good.

There is but one opinion on this crop. Little more than half a crop was set out, much of this perished by dry weather, leaving about two fifths of a crop to grow for market. The appearance of this is bad, being badly grown and incapable of development to profitable maturity. It is safe to say that the crop will not be more than two fifths of what it was last year though it is possible it may surpass that in quality. The above applies equally to Orange Person Caswell and Granville. We saw many fields, prepared for tobacco, planted in cotton or corn.

Extending from Flat River, across south to the Chatham line runs the cotton belt. Throughout the whole of it, the appearance of the crops is satisfactory in the extreme. The stand is perfect, the ground has been well worked, and the weed presents a well grown, healthy appearance, entirely free from the usual causes of apprehension, and loaded with bloom and boll. The production of cotton in this county last year was not far from 4000 bales. About the same time is planted this year as last. But so far the crop is thought to be better, and of course the yield will be larger.

All over the country the report is the same: a magnificent promise followed by a wretched performance. Thrashing develops a yield of rarely more than four in one. In this, as in tobacco, there are marked exceptions, but like tobacco, wheat as a crop was a failure.

Mr. Edward Anderson and his brother Halcott have been on a visit here during the past week, guests of P. C. Cameron, Esq. They are sons of Walker Anderson, so well and affectionately remembered here, who in the year 1836 removed to Florida, where he became one of the Supreme Court Judges of that State. These gentlemen are now residents of the old city of Pensacola, and by their energy and prudence have done much to revive the waning life of the place.

A young man named Perrell was shot and killed by another young man named Guter in the lower part of Chatham last week. They were turkey hunting, and approaching each other from opposite directions, both yelling in reply to each other. The imitation was so perfect, that when Perrell saw a motion through the bushes, he fired, thinking it was a turkey he shot at. On running up to secure his game, he found to his horror he had shot a neighbor and friend. There were 13 buck shot in the head of Guter and he had died instantly.

The house of Mr. P. B. Barbee, section Master of the N. C. R. R. who lives near upper Eno Bridge a little over a mile west of town, was entered on Thursday last, during the absence of the family, and robbed of everything portable. All his clothing, that of his wife and child, articles of provision &c. were carried off. We hear of no definite object of suspicion. Sometimes since, the carriage house of Mr. C. M. Parks was robbed of a very valuable set of buggy harness, as well as his full set of wagon gear, and as yet there is no clue to the thief. Depredations appear again to be establishing themselves among us as they did just after the war.

On Saturday night as Mr. Joseph Reese was on his way home from his place of business, he was waylaid near the residence of Haywood Beverly and violently assaulted & cut with some deadly weapon in the hands of a negro named Jordan Evans, a tobacco head in the employ of Mr. E. H. Pogue. Mr. Reese was severely wounded on the arm, and received a wound on the head, the instrument cutting through his hat. The crime of Mr. Reese brought out Beverly, and the assailant fled, but was arrested the same night and lodged in jail.

Mr. Reese died promptly from his wounds, but we believe his injuries are not dangerous. The assault was in consequence of a previous dispute during the afternoon, in which the assailant Evans had vowed vengeance for supposed injury.

Rain much needed about here, but a good promise for it now.

Danville Tobacco Fair.

Other engagements prevented our attendance on the Fair held at Danville on the 24th inst. We have received from a valued friend in Danville some account of it. It was a splendid success, and a fair runner of the system ought to the advantage of the Danville market, as well as to the planter.

It will be seen elsewhere that Orange and Alamance stand first in reputation. Dennis Tilley of Flat River received $165. per cwt. and the prize of $75, thereby establishing the fame of Flat River as the best tobacco region in the State.

The amount of sales at the Fair amounted to $13,325.90, averaging $9.12.

Annexed is a list of Premiums:

Premiums awarded at the Tobacco fair held at Star Warehouse, July 24th 1874.

A Narrow Escape.

On Sunday week a gentleman was crossing a bridge across New Hope creek, in his carriage drawn by a pair of mules. In the carriage were his wife and two daughters. Upon rising the abutment, the mules became alarmed at the rickety condition of the bridge, and began to back, bearing the carriage against the railing. The railing gave way, and carriage, riders, mules and all went over, fortunately catching in the tops of some low trees close by the bridge, which prevented material damage to person, mules, or carriage. The young ladies escaped with some slight contusions and much fright. Their mother leaped from the carriage, and alighted safely on the bridge.

We were glad to see at Patterson's Mill a petition in circulation for the renewal of the bridge which the County Commissioners should at once heed.

A Good Bridge.

The County Commissioners deserve the thanks of every good citizen of this and the adjoining counties for the excellent bridge they erected during the past year across Eno at McGowan's mill. It is the best bridge in the county, costing, with the admirably constructed rock roadway to the abutment on the south side $1200. It is money well spent and will return in the facilities it has opened for traffic and travel, ten-fold its cost. It is hard to realize how the deprivation of a bridge at that point has been so long submitted to. The subject of roads and bridges is one which we hope the commissioners will always be alive to, and they may afford to incur the risk of censure for the good they will do, and the approval which is always sure to follow the accomplishment of a useful work.

In their canvass, the radicals in this county have very boldly endeavored to obliterate the distinction between the Civil rights, and the Social rights, of the negro. The first he has, and no one proposes to deny them to him. It is the social equality feature that the white men rebels against, and these the radicals say is the same thing as the law already secures. Does the white man see no difference in voting side by side with the negro, and having him thrust himself, under protection of, and by means of law, into the most intimate social relations? We think he does and will so act on the day of election, when his vote will bear on this question.

The despoiling of the Presbyterian cemetery (by rail) the town cemetery has been finished. If the work was paid for by the day, the laborer had a good thing of it.

The schedule of the North Carolina Railroad underwent a slight change on Sunday. The mail going North now leaves Charlotte at 7:45 p.m., instead of 7, and returning arrives at 12:22, a.m., instead of 6:30. The day express between Charlotte and Greensboro, leaves at the same hour, 8:35 a.m., but returns an hour and five minutes later at 12:35 p.m. — [Observe.]

Trail passes Hillsboro at 5 o'clock 10 a.m.

The Aldine. For August is on our table. It has its usual rich artistic merit. The scenery of the Hudson, so well known many of our readers is beautifully and strikingly illustrated. A place or two representing pastoral scenes, creates an irresistible longing for the shady woods and grassy slopes of the country. The literary articles are all pleasant.

Subscription $5.00 a year (cheap at that.) Address Jas. Sutton & Co. 58 Madison Lane, New York.

"Time Tries all things," and has proved that Dr. Whitt's Balsam of Wild Cherry is the remedy for: sore throats, for the cure of coughs, colds, croup, whooping-cough, bronchitis, sore throat, and influenza. It cures coughs and colds, soothes the irritated parts, it heals the inflammation, and even consumption itself yields to its magic influence.
